CHICAGO, January 1, 1870.

J. M. RICHARDS, ESQ.,

President of the Board of Trade of the City of Chicago:

SIR—I beg leave herewith to submit to yourself and the members of the Board the Twelfth Annual Report of the Trade and Commerce of this City for the calendar year ending the 31st ult.

At the annual meeting of the Board in April last it was voted to change the time of issuing this report from April 1st to January 1st, as it was believed the latter date a more fitting time to take a review of the past, and gather together the figures and comparisons of the business of the city; and although it is an unfortunate time to give anything like a fair detailed statement of the Packing and Provision Trade, it is believed that a short supplemental report on that branch of the city's business, to be made out at the close of the fiscal year of the Board, about April 1st, will, with the regular report, meet the views of all more nearly than any other arrangement.

In preparing this Report an unusual amount of labor has been required in re-arranging tables, made up heretofore from April 1st to April 1st, so as to make them represent the business of the respective calendar years.

I am indebted to the courtesy of the various railroad officials for the favor of furnishing me (with a good degree of promptness) the revised returns of their lines. I have been obliged to impose somewhat on their kindness in this regard, that there should be no unnecessary delay in issuing the Report.

The year just closed has been, in some respects, an unfortunate one, at least so far as the business of dealing in the products of the earth are concerned; and, in fact, all branches of trade have, to a greater or less extent, shared the general depression. The volume of business has not been diminished, but it has not been conducted with its usual return of profit. Abundant crops in nearly all portions of the earth has tended to depress values, and the low prices that could be realized by our Western agriculturists, for most of their products, has reduced their ability to make as large purchases as usual, and thus, in turn, the merchant and trader in all the commodities of commerce have been disappointed in the results of the year's business. Added to these causes there has been a feeling of uncertainty in regard to the future of our circulating medium, and the possibility of an early return to a specie standard of values, which has made conservative men extremely cautious about embarking in extended enterprises of any character. It is to be hoped that the question of a depreciated currency, which has for so long a time been a subject of discussion and unrest, may be speedily removed by a return to the world's standard of measuring values; provided, of course, that the means adopted to bring about the end desired are not such as will produce evils of greater magnitude than those the country is now subject to.

BUILDING.

Notwithstanding the general depression alluded to, our city has continued to grow in population, and great improvements have been made in its appearance to the stranger, while our citizens refer with a just pride to the structures of elegant finish and massive proportions which meet the eye at every turn.

The city officials report the erection in the city during the year just closed of 3810 buildings, 218 of which were of stone, and 600 of brick; of these 287 were four stories in height, 93 were five stories, 24 were six stories, and 8 were seven stories. A careful estimate places the cost of the buildings erected at something over sixteen millions of dollars. Many miles of street paving and of sewerage have been completed. In fact, in every respect the city has greatly advanced, and been improved and beautified.

FINANCES.

While for the past few years our citizens have generally been increasing in personal wealth, and many have amassed large fortunes, there has been a very marked improvement in the character and means of our banking institutions, especially since the organization of banks under the National Banking Law. While the ability of our banks to accommodate their customers has been large, still the demand for the legitimate use of capital has been such that money has for nearly the whole year been in active demand at ten per cent. per annum, and undoubtedly a considerable amount of additional banking capital could be most profitably employed in the city. It is to be hoped that Congress will at an early day make such a re-apportionment of the National Banking Franchises as will give this city and the West generally its due proportion of banking facilities and circulation. And in this connection it may not be improper to express the hope that the convention now sitting to revise the Constitution of this State will devise some system of equalizing State taxation that will be more just to the banking interests than that which now prevails. It is a well known fact that real estate, and most kinds of personal property, are assessed in this State, for purposes of State taxation, at not over twenty-five to thirty per cent. of its real value. Bank shares seem to be an exception to this general rule, and are taxed at their par value, thus making capital employed for the legitimate and necessary uses of business pay nearly or quite four times as much tax as that which is invested in lands, held, in many instances, for purely speculative purposes, and where it is entirely useless to the public at large. This species of unfriendly legislation should be at once changed, and capital encouraged to seek channels where it is much needed.

The business of the city banks has been increasing for the past year, as shown by the reports of the Clearing House for the year—the entire amount of clearings for 1869 being$731,444,111 11
 For 1868 it was..... 718,485,908 39

An increase of.....$ 12,958,202 72

These figures, of course, do not represent the entire banking business of the city, but only checks on one bank deposited with another, and passed through the Clearing House for collection.

Exchange, owing to the present uniform character of the currency throughout the country, has ruled steady, varying only to the extent of the expense of remitting currency by express—sight exchange on New York varying from one-tenth of one per cent. discount to the same per cent. premium, as currency was plenty or scarce at the time.

FLOUR.

The year just closed has not yielded an average profit to those engaged either in making or dealing in flour. The manufacture in this city has been 543,285 barrels, against 732,479 barrels in 1868, showing a decrease of 189,194 barrels. The amount received from the interior has been 2,218,822 barrels, against 2,192,413 in 1868, an increase of 26,409—a net decrease in the amount handled of 162,785 barrels. Prices for flour have ranged relatively lower than for wheat, during most of the year. Especially is this true of the medium to good grades. A few of what are termed “fancy brands” have been in demand at fairly remunerative prices, and for a portion of the year low grades have been saleable at rates that left a good profit to the miller. Considerable orders have been executed in this market for flour to ship direct to Great Britain. These have been mainly for rather low grades. The trade with New England points has been only moderately active, while many points at the East that have for several years been drawing large supplies from us, are able, since the harvesting of the last crop of wheat, to procure supplies from their own immediate neighborhoods.

During the past year the Board of Trade has established a standard of grades for inspecting flour. It is not intended (at least for the present) to grade the higher qualities, as they appear to be disposed of by sample with more satisfaction to both buyer and seller, than if they were graded. But it is believed that if it were known that flour, in any given quantity, could be obtained in this market, of an acknowledged uniform standard of quality, many large orders would be sent here direct, that are now executed in the Eastern cities, where, of course, additional cost is incurred by frequent handling and commissions. It is proposed that samples of our standards of “Extra” shall be kept at the Exchanges in the prominent markets for breadstuffs in Great Britain; and as there is a purpose to preserve the integrity of the inspection by those standards, it is anticipated that a large business direct may result from the arrangement.

As yet but little has been done under the system of inspecting by grade, but it is expected that during the present year considerable trade will be inaugurated under it. It has hitherto been quite difficult to give an intelligent report of the flour market in this city to a stranger, owing to the fact that each lot of flour is sold by a sample, the exact character of which cannot be made clear in quotations.

WHEAT.

The business in wheat in the city has been larger during the past year than ever before—the receipts aggregating 16,876,760 bushels, against 14,772,094 bushels in 1868, an increase of over 2,000,000 bushels. The trade has not, as a general thing, been of a profitable character. Especially has this been true of it since the crop of 1869 began to move in August. Since then there has been a steady decline in price, with scarcely any re-action. The crop of the spring wheat producing States of the Northwest is acknowledged to be a large one in the aggregate. Some few points report a light yield, but especially in Iowa and Minnesota the crop is much above the average in quantity. The quality, as a whole, is inferior to the crop of 1868, but it is by no means of poor quality. The winter wheat crop of 1869 throughout the country was, with few exceptions, of unusually good quality, and of heavy yield, and winter wheat, both in grain and flour, has been pressed for sale at all points, at prices but little above spring. This fact, and the apparent abundance of wheat in Europe, has had a depressing influence on spring wheat. The year closes, for both wheat and flour, with a lower range of prices than for several years past.

CORN.

At the close of 1868 old corn was pretty closely shipped, and but little remained in farmers' hands in the West. There was in store in this city, on the 1st of January, 1869, but 157,205 bushels of old corn, and this gradually diminished until April 1st, when there remained but about 60,000 bushels. The crop of 1868 was of inferior quality to that of the previous year, and operators were more or less timid in the early part of the year about investing in it to hold through the winter in store, but there being an active demand for it at the East, for shipment by rail, at the low rates of freight then prevailing, it was kept moving so freely that the condition of that remaining in store was fairly preserved. The inspections show but a small per centage of the crop as being up to the standard of No. 1, and the general average of No. 2 has been inferior to that grade in most years.

The winter accumulation, amounting on the first of April to over 2,000,000 bushels, came out of store, with the exception of one elevator, in as good condition as was expected, and had the movement been active there would most likely have been but little loss resulting from any imperfections of quality. In July, however, there being considerable of No. 2 corn that had lain in store for some weeks it became more or less out of condition, producing great confusion in the trade, and resulting in positive loss to many. A very large speculative trade has been carried on in corn, during most of the year, and the fluctuations of the market have been sufficient to sustain excitement almost continually. Very little of the crop of 1869 has as yet come forward, its condition generally not being good enough to justify shipping. Various opinions prevail as to the amount of the crop. In this State the weight of opinion seems to be that the yield is light and the quality inferior. In Iowa it is better, but from that State but little comparatively is shipped unless prices rule high. It may perhaps be fair to assume that from present prospects and reports the receipts at this point for 1870 will not exceed those of 1869, which have been 23,475,800 bushels against 25,570,494 bushels in 1868, a decrease of 2,094,694 bushels. The Eastern States, and also the Southern, are represented as having harvested good crops of corn, and while the American consumption of this cereal is very large there is no foreign demand whatever for it, and from present indications prices must be made entirely on the basis of the home supply and demand. Prices at the close of the year are for No. 2 corn 69@70c.

OATS.

The receipts of oats for 1869 show a large falling off as compared with 1868, being 10,611,940 bushels, against 16,032,910 the previous year—a decrease of 5,420,970 bushels. It is generally admitted that the crop of 1869 was a fair one in the Northwest, but the prices prevailing since harvest being below producers' views they have declined to sell very freely. The crops Eastward have been better than in 1868. The trade throughout the year, with but little exception, has been a steady, legitimate one, and it is understood shipments hence have, as a whole, paid reasonable profits.

RYE.

The trade in rye has been of less volume than for several years, and the crop of 1869 seems throughout the country to be a light and inferior one. Shipments hence have been largely by rail, to supply points in the interior. Receipts for the year have been 955,201 bushels, against 1,523,820 in 1868—a decrease of 568,619 bushels. Prices, December 31st, close at 70@72c for Nos. 2 and 1.

BARLEY.

The Barley trade for the year has been very fluctuating, and to those who were engaged in buying and selling it on speculation, exceedingly unsatisfactory. The amount of the old crop of 1868 remaining in western producers hands at the beginning of the year was small, and came forward slowly, realizing, however, fair prices. The crop of 1869 has proved to be a very inferior one, very little of it being equal to the standard of No. 2, and a large percentage entirely unfit for malting. The receipts have been, 1,513,110 bushels, against 1,915,056 bushels last year; a decrease of 401,946 bushels; of the amount received only about one-half (770,412 bushels) was of western production, the balance (742,698 bushels) arriving here by lake, and eastern railroads, being mainly of Canadian growth. City brewers have been obliged to seek supplies at the East, as our own crop was below the standard of quality required by them.

The shipments eastward, by lake, have been insignificant, and that shipped away from the city has been mainly distributed to points in the interior. Much of the crop has been used for feeding purposes, as a substitute for corn and oats.

The range of prices has been very wide, and for much of the time the market has been in an unhealthy condition. Canada barley has generally been sold by sample, at prices ranging from five to fifty cents per bushel above the current prices for number two western.

PACKING AND PROVISION TRADE.

As the season of pork packing is now at its height, no review of it can properly be made, or statistics furnished, that would be satisfactory as a finality. As already stated, it is provided that on or about April first, a supplementary report shall be issued, by the Board, embracing the statistics of this branch of trade. In their proper place in this report will be found such statistics of receipts and shipments, packing and prices current of stock and product as can be made at this time. The packing season opened on extremely light stocks of provisions, in all parts of the country, and with the knowledge of this fact, and the reported short supply of hogs, a speculative fever set in, and the price of hog product, especially mess pork, advanced rapidly. This excitement has, in a measure, subsided, and a decline of three to four dollars per barrel has been realized from the highest point touched. Mess pork closing at $28 to $28.50 per barrel. In beef packing the business has been light, the demand for the product being of a very limited character.

LUMBER TRADE.

Chicago still maintains its supremacy in this branch of legitimate business. The receipts of lumber aggregating 997,736,942 feet, and of shingles, 673,-166,000, being a slight falling off on the former, and a large increase on the latter, as compared with the previous year. The business has been, so far as dealers are concerned, fairly remunerative. Manufacturers, as a general thing, are not thought to have realized large profits. Some, perhaps, whose mills are favorably situated, have done reasonably well, but large amounts of lumber have arrived, and been pressed on the market when it was not wanted, and prices have ruled low at the docks, while yard prices have been maintained at a point of profit on the favorable purchases.

As the years roll by, and continued inroads are making on the pine forests of Michigan, and Wisconsin, and in view of the still enormous prospective demand for lumber from this city, the question of the possibility of exhausting the supply becomes a pertinent one, and suggests reasonable husbandry of the acres yet untouched. Vast quantities of lumber are shipped hence as far west as Nebraska, and when the territory within the radius that must draw its supplies from here shall be all settled up, the amount of lumber that will be required must be of so great magnitude that it may well suggest to reflective minds the necessity of adopting other means of building and fencing than depending solely on pine lumber as hitherto.

HIGHWINES.

Since the reduction of the United States tax on the manufacture of this article, there has been a large increase in the production, both in this city and throughout the west. This has created a home demand for a large amount of corn, and other grains, furnished employment to many operatives, and at the same time largely increased the revenue of the government. It is believed that under the present reasonable tax, and the improved mode of collecting the same, that but little contraband business is transacted. The amount manufactured in the city, as registered in the U. S. Assessor's office, is more than double that of the preceding year, and at the close of the year nearly all the distilleries in the city are in full operation. Regulations designed for the more perfect protection of the revenues of the government have been inaugurated, most of which are conformed to without serious inconvenience, a recent order limiting the time of preparing the material for distillation, which was held to be of an injurious character to western distilleries, was promptly suspended, pending an investigation into the grounds of complaint urged against its operation. The demand for highwines has been such that prices have been well sustained at a point that would admit of a fair profit to the manufacturer, after paying all dues to the government. At the close of the year the demand is fairly active at 91@93c, free of tax.

It may be proper to add that the statistics of receipts and shipments at this point usually reported as highwines represent, in many instances, other liquors as well, and as it is impossible, from the returns made, to determine the respective amounts of each, all are included, in this report, under the head of "Liquors and Highwines."

WOOL AND HIDES.

The receipts of wool show a material falling off from the previous recent years. The low prices prevailing for the past two years, has tended to discourage the production, and many western farmers have disposed of their flocks, and abandoned the business. During the year the market has ruled lifeless, and sales have been slow, at a very moderate range of prices. The business of dealing in wool has settled into a few hands in this city; generally strong houses, who do not press it on the market, but await a consumptive demand.

In hides there has been a fair business, closing, however, at reduced figures.

SEEDS.

The business in seeds has been rather lighter than for the previous year, owing to a smaller production throughout the west. At the close of the year timothy is in good demand, and in rather light supply, while prices are strong at the current quotations.

Flax seed has been in good demand, during the autumn months, both for local consumption and shipment; an unusually large amount has been forwarded to eastern cities, where the stocks are light.

GENERAL TRADE.

Our city merchants, owing to the generally low prices, of domestic produce, thereby inducing moderate purchases in the interior, and to the shrinkage of value in stocks, consequent upon a gradual decline in gold, have been obliged to content themselves with small margins. The volume of business has been somewhat larger, and the breadth of country drawing its supplies from this city is constantly increasing. The territory west of the Missouri river, tributary to the Union Pacific Railroad, has been opened as a new field to Chicago enterprise, and a large business has been done in that direction. It is understood that interior merchants, generally, have light stocks, and with the opening of the spring trade it is expected the necessities of the country will bring to the wholesale trade of this city full life and vigor.

Efforts hitherto made to induce Congress to make Chicago, and other western cities, ports of entry for foreign goods, received via the seaboard cities, have failed, thus far, but will not be abandoned until their full accomplishment is realized. Goods, to a limited extent, are now received in bond, but they are subjected to examination, more or less damage, detention, and expense, at the point of delivery by ship, which western merchants believe can be avoided by proper regulations for their prompt delivery in bond from the vessel to responsible transportation lines, subject to examination and appraisement, at this, or other prominent cities in the west.

MANUFACTURES.

In this important branch of the business of the city it is to be regretted that detailed statistics can not be furnished. Various new enterprises are constantly springing up, and old ones are enlarging their operations. It is estimated that the manufactures of the city for 1869 (not including buildings erected) aggregate something over $40,000,000, and embrace goods of great variety, and such as find a ready market at home. As yet there is not in operation in this city any manufactory for woolen or cotton fabrics. It would seem that the former, at least, ought to be made as cheaply here as at the East, but the constant agitation on the subject of tariff and taxation keeps capitalists in a state of nervous uncertainty as to the future, and they decline to embark in an enterprise so apparently hazardous. In the manufacture of agricultural implements Chicago has long held a prominent position, and within a few years large establishments for the working of Iron have been established. It would seem that manufacturers themselves should be interested sufficiently to adopt measures for gathering the statistics of their business, but in the meantime we must be content to roughly estimate the aggregate, without going into details.

TRANSPORTATION.

Probably no question is of more vital importance to the West than the subject of transportation. With our large surplus of the products of the earth, the mine and the forest, the question of how those products can be most cheaply forwarded to the consumer, becomes one of universal interest, and in its results affects every individual to a greater or less extent. The introduction of railroads has effected a wonderful change in the prosperity and wealth of all our Western communities, and all along the lines of the thousands of miles of railway there have sprung up cities and villages as by an enchanter's wand. Farms have been cultivated, and prosperity and thrift have succeeded to the comparative wilderness of the years recently past.

But with increasing population and increasing production comes increasing needs for outlets for the surplus of the country. During the past year no new facilities for transportation Eastward from Chicago have been opened. The railroad lines have, however, materially modified their rates of charges, and for a considerable portion of the year have maintained a tariff for Western products at a point about as low as it has hitherto been held the business could be done without positive loss. Forty-five cents per 100 lbs. on grain from Chicago to New York is about one cent per ton per mile. This (which was the ruling rate for several months) is lower than it had ever been before. The rate by steam hence to Buffalo, and thence by railroad to New York, at one time touched thirty cents per 100 lbs for grain and fifty cents per barrel for flour, and ruled under forty cents for grain for several weeks by the propeller line running in connection with the Erie Railway. These are unprecedentedly low rates. Lake freights by sail have been very low, both Eastward and Westward, and the returns to vessel owners have been very meagre. Freights on the New York canals have been, as a general thing, very low, and with the exception of short intervals quite unremunerative to the carrier, after paying the tolls imposed by the State of New York. A very slight reduction in canal tolls on corn and oats occurred September 20th, but not sufficient to produce any apparent effect on the volume of business. It is a proposition plain to any one who will examine the subject that unless the State of New York reduces the tolls on Western produce to a point that will merely pay the cost of repairs and expenses, her canals must ere many years cease to be the great highway to market for those products. And it does not follow that when the business is diverted from her canals it will be necessarily transferred to her railroads. Other cities are in active competition for the business by rail, and the history of the trade in corn, especially, for the past few years, forcibly suggests the fact that the West finds purchasers for this commodity elsewhere than in the metropolis of that State. Until some relief can be afforded eastward from Buffalo there seems but little hope for any further abatement in charges from this point. The railways running Westward from Chicago do not seem inclined to make material concessions unless compelled to do so by competition. It is believed many abatements might be made by them to the interest both of themselves and the people patronizing them, and it is hoped a more liberal policy in this regard may prevail. Railroad lines have been extended in all the States West and Northwest of Chicago—prominent among which may be noted the completion of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific, and the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy lines, to Council Bluffs, making connection there with the line to California. The Union and Central Pacific Roads were completed, with proper ceremonies, on the 8th of May, since which time the business of the line, both in passenger and tonnage traffic has been as large as was expected, and is steadily increasing. The management is now in the hands of experienced and efficient gentlemen, and it is presumed a liberal policy will characterize its business with the public. Rates of fare and freight must necessarily be at a higher rate than on older roads having a large local business, but it is a question worthy the careful consideration of those in charge, whether it would not be a wise policy to abate the present high rates, and induce a larger through as well as local business. Chicago may well complain of some of the discriminations made on this line. The tariff published to take effect December 6th, 1869, makes but forty cents difference on first class freights, five cents on second class, and no difference on third class between San Francisco and Chicago, or between San Francisco and New York and Boston, while some classes of freight are taken between San Francisco and New York at materially lower rates than between this city and San Francisco; but for this (as it seems to us) unjust discrimination, our dealers would have made much larger shipments, especially of butter, during the past few months.

It is becoming apparent that as competing lines of railway are opened, very much of the business hitherto carried on by water will be diverted to the rail, and while it is not expected that water lines will be abandoned or perhaps their volume of business reduced, it would seem that the most of the increase of traffic will be done by rail. And in this connection it may not be improper to suggest the absolute necessity of providing better means for the handling of grain in bulk. Very great losses have been sustained by shippers eastward, from loss in weight at the point of delivery, and under the present arrangement of divided responsibility they are without remedy. Until grain can be receipted for at the point of shipment, specifically as to weight, there will be great dissatisfaction, and a much less business transacted than if these suggestions were complied with.

DIVERSION OF TRADE FROM CHICAGO.

During the early months of the past year a very vigorous effort was inaugurated by the merchants and press of Saint Louis to divert the trade in bread-stuffs of the upper Mississippi valley from its accustomed route, via the lakes to that city, and thence via New Orleans to its ultimate destination and market.

For this purpose a combination of merchants called "The Saint Louis Grain Association" was formed, having for its apparent object the testing of the feasibility of that route, and, indeed, many were more than half persuaded that a large diversion of Chicago and Milwaukee trade would result. It does not appear, however, that such will prove to be the case, as any known modes of transportation by that route are proving themselves more expensive than the route via the lake cities. The receipts of wheat at Saint Louis, for 1869, by the published reports from that city, seem to have been in excess of 1868, nearly 3,000,000 bushels. No means are at hand for determining in what months this excess occurred, but as the winter wheat crop of 1869, that is naturally tributary to Saint Louis, was large, it is fair to presume at least a good portion of this increase occurred since harvest. The receipts at Chicago for the first seven months of 1869 (when this effort of diversion was most active) was over 4,000,000 bushels in excess of the corresponding time in 1868. Only 74,358 bushels of wheat are reported as exported from New Orleans since September 1st. How much, if any, of this came from northern states, is not known. But as 218,439 bushels have been received at Chicago, direct from Saint Louis, since September 1st, over 80,000 bushels of it paying railroad transportation, it may be inferred that the merchants of that city have discovered that Chicago is the best outlet for their surplus wheat. If wheat, after being sent to Saint Louis, seeks Chicago, as a market of sale, or point of transshipment, it would seem a wise policy to send it directly here, rather than to subject it to the delay and expense of a trip to that city. The entire exports from New Orleans for the year ending September 1, 1869 are reported to be, of wheat, 138,976 bushels, and of corn, 394,908 bushels—a diversion (provided it were all drawn from Chicago, though in point of fact little or none of it was) of not very formidable proportions. A few cargoes were sent to American eastern cities, but only sufficient to test the enterprise.

DIRECT FOREIGN TRADE.

This branch of business, for the past year, shows a marked increase, mainly in breadstuffs. The business, hitherto, has been confined almost exclusively to provisions, but, owing to the high price of hog product but little of it has been ordered during the autumn and winter. Low or medium grades of flour have been shipped to a considerable extent, and it is understood that orders are now awaiting fulfillment for both wheat and flour, if slight reductions can be secured on transportation charges, and the required concessions are likely to be made, at an early day. Through bills of lading are given from Chicago to all the principal seaports in Great Britain and Ireland, freights, at this writing, are nominal at 75 cents per 100 lbs. for grain and provisions, and 150 cents per barrel for flour, payable in gold. By the courtesy of S. T. Webster, Esq., agent of the European freight line, copies of the reports of the trade and commerce of this city have been placed, during the past summer, with the Chambers of Commerce of several of the cities of Great Britain and Ireland, and as it is in contemplation to place samples of our grades of flour in the rooms of those organizations, it is anticipated that business may be promoted, to the advantage of both them and us.

I have the honor to be, Mr. President,

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

CHAS. RANDOLPH, Secretary.

All grain arriving in bulk shall be inspected and received into the house for such grade only as the Inspector shall decide, except when sold on the track for grinding, city consumption, or shipment, and the Inspector shall in no case make the grade above the lowest quality found in any lot of grain, when it has evidently been mixed, or "doctored," with the view of changing the grade, and our warehousemen are requested to refuse all bagged grain which shall have been bagged for this express purpose, and all railroad companies are requested to prohibit all bagging on their tracks, except for local consumption or shipment.

RULES FOR THE INSPECTION OF FLOUR.

1st.—SOUND. To be strictly sound, free from any and every defect or fault, causing either smell or taste.

2d.—WEEDY. Flour made from wheat that has come in contact with a noxious weed, imparting an unpleasant smell, which it is supposed will cook out.

3d.—UNSOUND. All flour not "Sound," or "Weedy," whether the unsoundness is derived from the condition of the Wheat, or has originated in the Flour. The Inspectors are required to note on their certificate the character of the unsoundness, such as musty, hard sour, soft sour, or slightly unsound; the latter explanation of the unsoundness being intended to indicate that the flour will probably work sound for immediate use, and is but slightly depreciated in value.

4th. All Flour that inspects "sound," and full weight, shall be branded, and none other ; except that when part of a lot proves so far below sample as to be clearly different, the Inspectors may omit branding the barrels that are below, and it shall be their duty, when working to a sample, to state on their certificate the number of barrels above or below the sample, and have a sample or samples of the same, which the parties may examine ; also, to state on their certificate, when the flour is "unsound" or "weedy," the number of barrels of each description, and also, when practicable, the number of barrels that are so stained or out of condition as to depreciate the market value of the flour. When flour has been overhauled and cleaned on account of being wet, the Inspectors shall note on their certificate, "wet and cleaned," either "by Inspector," or "by Owner," as the case may be. The Inspectors shall satisfy themselves in regard to the weights, and in case they deem it necessary to strip some of the flour, they shall be entitled to twenty-five (25) cents for each barrel so stripped (if it proves to be short weight), in addition to the regular fee of two cents per barrel, for inspecting and branding. The charge for stripping shall be paid by the seller. No certificate shall be issued for a part of a lot of flour inspected, without the consent of both the buyer and seller. The Inspectors shall only be liable to damage for any discrepancy between the flour for which a certificate is issued, and the sample which they retain of the flour so inspected, unless the buyer hands them the sample to inspect by, or the standard sample is used.

5th. The Directors shall establish grades of "Extra," and "Superfine," with a proper standard for each grade ; samples of these standards shall be furnished to the Flour Inspectors, and also to the Secretary of the Board. It shall be the duty of the Inspector to furnish, monthly (or oftener if directed), to the Flour Inspection Committee, for the use of the Secretary of the Board, the standard samples that they are working to.

6th. Whenever desired to do so, the Inspectors shall inspect by such standards, under the same rules which govern inspection by sample ; it being understood that in such trades the Inspector's certificate of "sound, full weight, and equal to standard of extra" (or "superfine"), shall be satisfactory, and in no other respect is inspection by grade, to vary from the rules established for inspection by sample.

7th. In all cases of claims for errors in inspection by grade, the final test shall be by the standard samples, in the care of the Secretary of the Board.

8th. Besides the stencils for use in inspecting by sample, the Inspectors shall provide others, stating the grade as well as the month of inspection, and whenever desired by either buyer or seller, the latter stencils shall be used. But no "unsound," "weedy," or "light weight" flour shall be stencilled in any way by the Inspectors.

9th. Flour shall be sold on the basis of one hundred and ninety-six pounds to the barrel. In case of short weight, the buyer shall be allowed at the rate he pays, and three-fourths of a cent per pound on same for freight, and, in addition, five (5) cents per barrel for the expense of re-filling.

INSPECTION OF PROVISIONS.

DIRECTIONS FOR CUTTING, PACKING AND CURING PORK AND BEEF, AND RULES REGULATING THE INSPECTION OF THE SAME.

The following Rules for Examination and Inspection of Provisions, as adopted by the PORK PACKERS' ASSOCIATION, have also been adopted by this Board;

EXAMINATION.—To provide for the examination of provisions sold as "standard," it shall be the duty of the Inspector, on receiving notice, to go to any packing-house or warehouse in the city, to examine provisions in such quantities as may be required; selecting the same in such a manner, from the lot specified, as in his judgment will give a fair sample of the whole. If, upon examination, it is found in all respects up to the standard, according to classification of grades herewith adopted, he shall issue certificate to that effect.

When necessary to remove property for the convenience of examination, it shall be the duty of the Inspector to send for the same, that a fair sample may be obtained. In no case shall a certificate be granted on samples delivered by the seller.

The Inspector shall keep a record, in detail, of every examination he may make, that he may be qualified to testify positively in the event of a dispute; and should any portion, by examination or inspection, at or previous to time of removal from place of sale, prove to be different in character, the seller shall be responsible for difference.

The Inspector shall be entitled to receive, as compensation for examining provisions, five dollars ($5.00) for the first five barrels, and twenty-five cents for each additional barrel examined, payable by the buyer if "standard," and by the seller if rejected—and cartage when removed.

INSPECTION.—It shall be the duty of the Inspector, as requested by owner, either at any packing-house, warehouse, or in yards provided by the Inspector, to overhaul and inspect provisions according to the classification and quality authorized for standard packing; two hundred pounds of meat, with abundance of salt, to be repacked into each barrel, and cooperage to be put into good order; each barrel of provisions that is sound, sweet and free from every defect, to have grade and date of inspection branded thereon, and any portion that is defective to be branded, in like manner, "rusty," "sour," or "tainted," as the case may be, across the regular inspection brand.

MESS PORK.—Shall be packed from sides of well-fatted hogs, cut in strips not exceeding six and a half ($6\frac{1}{2}$) inches wide, and flanked, and not back strapped; 196 pounds of green meat, numbering not over sixteen pieces, including only the regular proportion of flank and shoulder cuts. Four layers to be packed into each barrel, with not less than 40 pounds Turks Island, St. Ubes, or Trepanni, or 45 pounds of other good qualities of foreign or domestic coarse salt, and clear brine as strong as salt will make it.

CLEAR PORK.—Shall be packed from sides of extra heavy, well-fatted hogs, cut, selected and packed in the same manner as Mess Pork. The backbone and half the rib next the backbone to be taken out.

EXTRA CLEAR PORK.—Same as clear, except that all the rib and backbone must be taken out.

MESS ORDINARY, OR THIN MESS.—Of hogs reasonably well fatted, too light for Mess Pork, cut, selected and packed in the same manner as Mess. No restriction as to the number of pieces to the barrel.

RUMP PORK.—Rumps should be trimmed, with only enough taken off to make them neat and smooth: the tail cut off close. Each barrel to contain 200 pounds of green meat, packed with the same quantity and quality of salt as Mess Pork.

PRIME PORK.—Shall be packed with a header of side cuts, the regular width, three half heads. It may have three rumps, with the balance shoulder cuts. The shoulder should have the rib in them, and cut into three pieces each, the foot to be cut off above the knee, and the shank cracked near the shoulder. Head to be split through the brain and tongue; snout and ears cut off, and brains removed. Each barrel to contain 200 pounds of green meat, and to be packed with the same quantity and quality of salt as Mess Pork; heads to be soaked before being packed.

EXTRA PRIME PORK.—Shall be made from heavy, untrimmed shoulders, cut into three pieces; the leg to be cut close to the breast, to be packed 200 pounds green meat into each barrel, with the same quantity and quality of salt as Mess Pork.

PRIME MESS PORK.—Shall be made of shoulders and sides of nice, smooth, fat hogs, weighing from 120 to 170 pounds each, net, regularly cut into square pieces, as near four pounds each as possible, the shank to be cut off close to the breast, each barrel to contain 200 pounds green meat, in proportion of twenty pieces of shoulder and thirty pieces of side cuts, and to be packed with the same quantity and quality of salt as Mess Pork, with the addition of four ounces of saltpeter. The prime pieces shall be cut free of the blade bone. The shoulder pieces not to exceed ninety pounds to each barrel. It may also be packed with twenty pounds (20 lbs.) Turks Island, St. Ubes or Trepanni, or twenty-five pounds (25 lbs.) other domestic or foreign coarse salt, and shall pass as "Light Salted Prime Mess Pork," provided it is in all other respects cut and packed as full salted Prime Mess Pork.

When resalted, the brine shall be drawn off and new brine added.

PICKLED HAMS AND SHOULDERS.—The number of pieces and green weight must be branded on the head of each tierce.

MESS BEEF.—Shall be packed from well fattened cattle, weighing 450 pounds and upwards, net, and cut as near ten pound pieces as practicable, excluding the legs and rand of the hind quarter, shin and shoulder clod, and eight pounds of the neck from the fore quarter; and shall be packed in regular provision packages, with at least twenty pounds of coarse Turks Island, St. Ubes, Syracuse, Trepanni, or other good coarse salt, with at least four ounces saltpeter, and pickle as strong as salt will make it.

EXTRA MESS BEEF.—From well fattened cattle, shall be cut and packed the same as Mess Beef, from cattle weighing 500 pounds and upwards, net. The cooperage in all cases to be of good and well seasoned material, and in good condition. The date of packing to be branded on the head of each of the above qualities of Pork and Beef.

WEIGHTS AND TARES.—In the absence of agreement to the contrary, the following rules shall govern weights and tares:

Pickled Hams and Shoulders—One per cent to be allowed for drainage.

Bulk Meats—Salt being struck off but not swept, one per cent. tare to be allowed.

Lard—Actual tare to be allowed, to be ascertained by first weighing the package in gross, the Lard then to be removed from the package, the package subjected to dry heat and drained; the package then to be weighed, and its weight to be deducted from the gross weight first obtained, the difference representing the net weight of the Lard.

NOTE.—Up to 1850, only the aggregate valuations in the several counties were reported to the State officers and from 1852 to 1857, inclusive, a few counties returned only the aggregate, hence the details of Personal Property and Real Estate Valuations are not complete for those years. In 1867 and 1868 the details of Valuation are not entirely correct, owing to changes by the operation of the equalization law. For 1869, the different valuations are as equalized. The Total Valuations in each of the several years are entirely correct and official. The valuations of property for taxation are, at the present time, not over one quarter the actual cash value of the different kinds of property assessed.

The State Debt as noted, represents it as it stood on the 1st of January in each of the several years, except 1868 and 1869. In 1868, the Debt noted, is as it stood December 31st. In 1869, as it stood December 1st. There was received into the Treasury of the State, from the Tax on the Franchise of the Illinois Central Railroad, from December 1st, 1868, to December 1st, 1869, the sum of $443,738.22. This fund, with very limited Taxation, will entirely free the State from debt in a very few years.

LAKE FISH.

The receipts of Lake Fish for the year have been..... 71,613 Packages.
In 1868..... 74,652 "

Decrease..... 3,039 Packages.

Of the receipts, the City Fish Inspector reports only 42,401 packages as being inspected by him, which is suggestive of the inefficiency of that branch of the public service.

CALIFORNIA TRADE.

The through trade between Chicago and the principal cities of California, via the Union Pacific and Central Pacific Railroads, has been of an encouraging character. No data is at hand by which the amount of westward bound business can be determined. The following shows the amount of eastward bound traffic in the principal articles, between the points named and Chicago direct:
